Teachers, join us for an engaging series of advanced education programming for adults this fall!

Choose from among topics related to court cases, citizenship, and more.

Each program will be conducted virtually and will last 1 hour. All programs are FREE to teachers, but registration is required, and space is limited! See below for program details and registration information.

September 25, 2020 – 3pm to 4pm ET

The Complex History of Citizenship: Celebrate Hispanic Heritage Month with: Dr. Dan-el Padilla Peralta

Registration Deadline: September 24, 2020

To Register: Registration is through the Indiana State Bar Association. You do not need to be an attorney to register. Please answer n/a to any fields that do not apply.

At the age of four, Dan-el Padilla Peralta arrived in New York City from the Dominican Republic. Despite his undocumented status, the young boy rose from poverty and homelessness to obtain his Ph.D. and is now an Associate Professor of Classics at Princeton University. He is the author of Undocumented: A Dominican Boy's Odyssey from a Homeless Shelter to the Ivy League (2015). On September 25, Dr. Padilla Peralta will discuss a range of historical and contemporary approaches to the dilemmas of citizenship. From immigration advocacy to the Movement for Black Lives, activists in the United States and throughout the world have drawn attention to the design and institutionalization of different forms of (unequal) citizenship. Dr. Padilla Peralta will map a history of citizenship as a concept and institution from the ancient Mediterranean world to the 21st century.

October 9, 2020 – 3pm to 4pm ET

Reflections on the Struggle for Woman Suffrage in Indiana

Registration Deadline – October 2, 2020

To Register: RSVP to insd\_cle@insd.uscourts.gov. Your RSVP should state that you are a teacher and include the name of the school where you teach.

Dr. Anita Morgan, Senior Lecturer in History at IUPUI and author of the book, We Must Be Fearless: The Woman Suffrage Movement in Indiana (Indiana Historical Society Press, 2020) will present an hour-long program on the history of woman suffrage in Indiana in commemoration of the 2020 Centennial Anniversary of the Nineteenth Amendment. Dr. Morgan's presentation will explore the various ways that Hoosier women attempted to work within the law to achieve the right to vote. Her presentation will give special focus to Gougar v. Timberlake (1897), a suit filed by Helen Gougar against the Tippecanoe County election board for refusing to allow her to vote. Dr. Morgan will also discuss the 1907 campaign to enact county option suffrage laws in Indiana. The presentation will shed light on the diversity of efforts employed by women to achieve the right to vote during the late-nineteenth and early-twentieth centuries.

November 20, 2020 – 4pm to 5pm ET

An Election Fraud Case for the Ages: *U.S. v. Aczel

Registration Deadline: November 13, 2020

To Register: RSVP to insd\_cle@insd.uscourts.gov. Your RSVP should state that you are a teacher and include the name of the school where you teach.

In 1915, Terre Haute's mayor, chief of police, and several other prominent officials were indicted in federal court on charges that they used their positions to intimidate and unlawfully detain citizens of Terre Haute to prevent them from voting in the 1914 election. At stake were a seat in the Senate and House of Representatives for Indiana's fifth congressional district. The intriguing, and sometimes violent, story of the conspirators' efforts to disenfranchise legal voters and thus influence the outcome of a federal election will take center stage as journalist Sasha Issenberg explores the fascinating story behind U.S. v. Aczel.
